provides a comprehensive and up to date review of the development of the science behind the psychology of false confessions four decades ago little was known or understood about false confessions and the reasons behind them so much has changed since then due in part to the diligent work done by gisli h gudjonsson this eye opening book by the icelandic british clinical forensic psychologist who in the mid 1970s had worked as detective in reykjavik offers a complete and current analysis of how the study of the psychology of false confessions came about including the relevant theories and empirical experimental evidence base it also provides a reflective review of the gradual development of the science and how it can be applied to real life cases based on gudjonsson s personal account of the biggest murder investigations in iceland s history as well as other landmark cases the psychology of false confessions forty years of science and practice takes readers inside the minds of those who sit on both sides of the interrogation table to examine why confessions to crimes occur even when the confessor is innocent presented in three parts the book covers how the science of studying false confessions emerged and grew to become a regular field of practice it then goes deep into the investigation of the mid 1970s assumed murders of two men in iceland and the people held responsible for them it finishes with an in depth psychological analysis of the confessions of the six people convicted written by an expert extensively involved in the development of the science and its application to real life cases covers the most sensational murder cases in iceland s history deep analysis of the reykjavik confessions adds crucial evidence to understanding how and why coerced internalized false confessions occur and their detrimental and lasting effects on memory the psychology of false confessions forty years of science and practice is an important source book for students academics criminologists and clinical forensic and social psychologists and psychiatrists contrary to conventional wisdom about capitalism the pervasive norm to acquire wealth and the zealous mission to fight poverty have their double sides often unsaid in that there is no wealth without poverty just as there is no poverty without wealth such that more wealth also creates more poverty consider for instance america which is regarded by many as the wealthiest country on earth at the turn of the 21st century yet this wealthiest country on earth is also the most hated one around the world as a soul searching question after the september 11 2001 terrorist attacks is why do they hate us so isn't it paradoxical dr baofu asks that this enormous accumulation of wealth ends up creating more hatred and violence around the world instead of contributing to a more prosperous humane one is there something fundamentally wrong in this seductive idea of wealth acquisition in capitalism the wealth paradox disappears as dr civilization which prides itself on acquiring wealth as the central focus of life meaning is too inadequate to fulfill fully the domains of life on material relational and spiritual concerns it is so since capitalism as a historical contingency to fight the material impoverishment of pre modernity overdoes itself as a historical solution to the problem of poverty and will not last to be superseded by what dr baofu originally proposed as its successor post capitalism
