is your child getting lost in the system becoming bored losing his or her natural eagerness to learn if so it may be time to take charge of your child s education by doing it yourself the well trained mind will instruct you step by step on how to give your child an academically rigorous comprehensive education from preschool through high school one that will train him or her to read to think to understand to be well rounded and curious about learning veteran home educators susan wise bauer and jessie wise outline the classical pattern of education called the trivium which organizes learning around the maturing capacity of the child's mind and comprises three stages: the elementary school grammar stage when the building blocks of information are absorbed through memorization and rules; the middle school logic stage in which the student begins to think more analytically; and the high school rhetoric stage where the student learns to write and speak with force and originality. Using this theory as your model, you'll be able to instruct your child, whether full time or as a supplement to classroom education, in all levels of reading, writing, history, geography, mathematics, science, foreign languages, rhetoric, logic, art, and music, regardless of your own aptitude in those subjects. Thousands of parents and teachers have already used the detailed book lists and methods described in The Well-Trained Mind to create a truly superior education for the children in their care. This extensively revised fourth edition contains completely updated curricula and book lists, links to an entirely new set of online resources, new material on teaching children with learning challenges, cutting-edge math and science recommendations, answers to common questions about home education, and advice on practical matters such as standardized testing, working with your local school board, designing a high school program, preparing transcripts, and applying to colleges. You do have control over what and how your child learns; The Well-Trained Mind will give you the tools you'll need to teach your child with confidence and success.

One of the first honest, moving, and funny portrayals of a solid marriage I have ever read. Jessica Grose, The New York Times, a Best Book of 2022. From The New Yorker and Chicago Tribune: an illuminating, poignant, and savagely funny examination of modern marriage. From Ask Polly, advice columnist Heather Havrilesky: if falling in love is the peak of human experience, then marriage is the slow descent down that mountain on a trail built from conflict, compromise, and nagging doubts. Considering the limited economic advantages to marriage, the deluge of other mate options, a swipe away, and the fact that almost half of all marriages in the United States end in divorce anyway, why do so many of us still chain ourselves to one human being for life in foreverland? Heather Havrilesky illustrates the delights, aggravations, and sublime calamities of her marriage over the span of fifteen years, charting an unpredictable course from meeting her one true love to slowly learning just how much energy is required to keep that love aflame. This refreshingly honest portrait of a marriage reveals that our relationships are not simply happy or unhappy, but something much murkier at once unsavory taxing and deeply satisfying with tales of fumbled proposals harrowing suburban migrations external temptations and the bewildering insults of growing older foreverland is a work of rare candor and insight havrilesky traces a path from daydreaming about forever for the first time to understanding what a tedious glorious drag forever can be
