Understanding Tung Acupuncture: An Overview

What is Tung Acupuncture? Tung acupuncture is a distinct branch of traditional Chinese medicine that was developed by Dr. Tung Ching Chang in Taiwan. Unlike classical Chinese acupuncture, which often involves points along meridians, Tung acupuncture focuses on specific points located mainly on the extremities—fingers, hands, feet, and lower legs. These points are believed to be highly effective for treating a variety of ailments because they are closely related to internal organ functions and body systems.

Philosophy and Principles

The core philosophy of Tung acupuncture revolves around the concept that certain points on the extremities can influence internal organs and body functions. The system emphasizes:

- Direct point location with minimal needling
- Rapid therapeutic effects
- Use of specific, well-defined points for particular conditions
- Combination of multiple points for complex cases Practitioners believe that stimulating these points can restore the body's natural balance, promote Qi flow, and alleviate pain or dysfunction. --- Key Tung Acupuncture Points and Their Clinical Significance

2 Major Points on the Fingers and Hands

The fingers and hands are rich in acupoints that influence various organs and systems.

He Gu (LI4): Located between the thumb and index finger, this point is renowned for its analgesic properties and is used in conditions like headaches, facial pain, and immune modulation.

San Jian (Extra Point): Found on the dorsum of the hand, useful for treating eye disorders and headaches.

Shao Shang (LU11): Located on the thumb tip, indicated for sore throats, respiratory issues, and fever.

Important Points on the Feet and Lower Legs

The lower extremities are fundamental in Tung acupuncture, with many points directly connected to internal organs.

Taichong (LR3): Situated on the dorsum of the foot, this point is vital for liver health, stress relief, and menstrual issues.

Zusanli (ST36): Located below the knee, a powerful point for overall vitality, digestion, and immune function.

Chengshan (Extra Point): Found on the lower leg, used for lower back pain and urinary issues.

Special Points for Specific Conditions

Some Tung points are highly specific to particular ailments:

Yongquan (KI1): On the sole of the foot, used for dizziness, fainting, and calming¹ the mind.

Fenglong (Extra Point): Located on the lower leg, indicated for swelling, edema,² and leg cramps.

Jianyu (Extra Point): Found on the arm, used for shoulder pain and paralysis.³
